Historical Note: The Layton Art Gallery, located on the corner of Mason and Jefferson, opened in April 1888. Frederick Layton, a leader in Milwaukee's meat packing industry, furnished the land, the building and many works of art from his own collection for the gallery. Starting in 1920, the building also housed the Layton School of Art (which eventually relocated to 4650 N. Port Washington Road). The records consist of catalogues, invoices, receipts, vouchers, brochures, canceled checks and other ephemera detailing the operations of the gallery and the Layton School of Art.

Administrative Note: The collection was reprocessed on April 6, 2005 by Kevin Abing.
