Abstract:

Allied Power, Inc. was founded as the American Grinder and Manufacturing Company in 1910. It was first founded to produce hand-turned bench grinders. They acquired a complete line of mechanic's hand service tools, which were sold under the brand name "Blackhawk". Herbert P. Brumder became president of the company in 1923 and the corporate name changed to Blackhawk Manufacturing Company in 1925. They continued to expand their production lines in the next decades. Philip G. Brumder took over as President in 1952. The company's name was changed to Allied Power Industries, Inc. in 1960 and shortened to Allied Power, Inc. in 1973.

Administrative Note:

The collection was donated by E.J. Brumder in April 2010. The collection was processed by Amanda Wynne in 2010.
