Abstract: Milwaukee's Common Council passed an ordinance establishing a police force in September 1855. William Beck, a former New York detective, was named the city's Police Chief. Political patronage was the rule in the department's early years until the 1880s when the State Legislature passed a law creating a police and fire commission to insulate police appointments from political influence.

Scope and Content: The collection consists of annual reports, newspaper clippings, pamphlets, flyers, various police publications and other ephemera.

Access and Use: No restrictions

Language: English

Notes: Collection initially processed on April 17, 1989, by R. Fuhrman. It was added to on several occasions by Steve Daily and Kevin Abing.
