

Title: Jones Island

Manuscript numbers: Mss-0617

Bulk: .003

Location: Sm Mss

Scope and Content: Exhibits from Circuit Court Case #16797, Illinois Steel Company vs. Michael Jeka, et al. Exhibits include a map that shows the locations of structures on Jones Island. Jones Island is an industrialized peninsula in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. It was once a marsh island between the Milwaukee and Kinnickinnic rivers. Kashubian and German immigrants settled in here in the 1870s but were later evicted by the city of Milwaukee in order to make way for shipping ports.

Access and Use: No restrictions

Language: English

Administrative Note: Processed by Emmaleigh Grady, August 2017