Abstract: The United Way of Greater Milwaukee is a non-profit organization dedicated to improving the lives of people living in Milwaukee and Waukesha counties. It invests in 220-plus programs at over 110 agency program partners to address problems in the areas of health, education and financial stability. The organization began in 1909 as Milwaukee's Central Council of Philanthropies to prevent duplication and standardize delivery of human services among charitable organizations. In 1916, a committee from the Central Council proposed and implemented a plan to organize 22 philanthropic organizations in the city into a financial confederation called the Centralized Budget of Philanthropies. This fund-raising organization conducted Milwaukee's first community-wide campaign. The Central Council of Philanthropies changed its name to the Central council of Social Agencies, and in 1923, the Central Budget became the Community Fund. The Community Fund and Central Council merged to become the Milwaukee County Community Fund and Council of Social Agencies. In 1948, the organization's name was changed to the Community Welfare Council (CWC). Twelve years later, the name was changed to United Community Services (UCS), and in 1975, the organization became United Way of Greater Milwaukee.

Scope and Content: This collection contains promotional materials, financial records, annual reports, newspaper clippings, meeting minutes and other ephemera documenting the United Way's various organizational changes and philanthropic activities.

Access and Use: Some material is restricted.

Language: English

Notes: Collection processed by Craig Gross, fall 2017.
