Abstract: Otto H. Falk was born on June 18, 1865, in Wauwatosa and attended the German-English Academy in Milwaukee. He graduated from Northwestern College in Watertown, Wisconsin and, desiring to pursue a military career, attended the Allen Military Academy of Chicago. Thereafter, he became a member of the Light Horse Squadron Cadet Corps and on March 9, 1886, he began his service as adjutant of the 4th Infantry, Wisconsin National Guard (WNG). The following year he was promoted to major and then lieutenant colonel, and in 1891, Governor Peck appointed Falk quartermaster of the Wisconsin National Guard. Two years later, Peck appointed Falk adjutant general of the state militia. He also served as the chief quartermaster for the Third Arm Corps during the Spanish-American war, returning to Wisconsin in 1899 and assuming command of the 1st Infantry Regiment, WNG. In addition to his military service, he was very involved in Milwaukee’s business affairs. He was vice-president of the Falk Company and a director of the Wisconsin Telephone Company. In 1913, he was elected president of the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company, a position he held until 1932. Thereafter, he was the company’s chairman of the board until his death in May 1940.
