() How Dry I Am: Milwaukee Prohibition

Prohibition is considered one of the largest legislative interventions in the history of the United States. At the same time the 1920s were more than just flappers, speakeasies, and bootleggers. What were the roots of the movement and how did people resist it? This talk explores the people, organizations, and places instrumental in the Prohibition movement and 1920s Milwaukee.

() The Travels of Jacques Marquette

Travel along with Nicolet and Fr. Marquette from French Canada across Lake Michigan and through the river systems south almost to the gulf, and back up to Chicago. What did they experience? Who did they meet? What was the winter of 1674/5 like for them? Imagination will carry you along and inspire you to understand the woodland landscapes before settlement.

Speaker Presentations

The Milwaukee County Historical Society staff offers on-site and off-site presentations about a variety of topics related to Milwaukee County history.

The following is a list of popular presentation topics based on the areas of expertise of the staff and topics that are often requested.

(S) A City of Three Rivers

Milwaukee's development depended on three rivers coming together at what is now a busy harbor, and continues to celebrate life on the water, with recreational and commercial use, the Coast Guard, lighthouses and stories of sail, steam and speed. As a significant watershed, the map of water sources in the area shows urban, rural and city settings for these three arteries that lead to the gateway to the Great Lakes.

() Four Famous Milwaukeeans

The stories of :

- Mathilde Anneke: educator
- Alexander Mitchell's first insurance company (bank)
- John Clarence Cudahy: lawyer, hunter and diplomat
- Increase Lapham: self-educated scientist

(3) Digging Through the Years

The Research Library of the Milwaukee County Historical Society has a wide variety of information about the history of the City of Milwaukee and Milwaukee County. Whether you are researching your family history or have an interest in a particular part of our local history, our collections may have the information you are looking for. (Combine with a trip to the MHCS Archives)

(1) Letters from the Front

In years past, the written letter brought news from soldiers, kept families connected and relayed orders to the troops. We'll consult correspondence and dispatches from MCHS's various War collections for news from the front and at home.

() Take Me Out to the Ball Game

Milwaukee has always been a city that loves baseball. This presentation hits it out of the park for sports lovers.

Improvisation, Syncopation, & Swing Notes

Ever since John H. Wickcliffe and his Famous Ginger Jazz Band played at the Schlitz Palm Garden in the late 1910s, Milwaukee has had a small, but vibrant jazz community made up of musicians, promoters, club owners, and aficionados. This talk discusses some of the principle figures and venues that have contributed to the rich history of Milwaukee's jazz scene and how that scene fits in to the national context.

③ Marble, Iron, and Wood: Milwaukee's Grand Buildings

Celebrating five buildings in our city: The Northern Trust Bank Building, The Pabst Theatre, The Second Ward Savings Bank, The Federal Building, and Milwaukee City Hall. We will enjoy learning about the resources, architects and styles used, and the hard work that contributed to these elegant, decorative and substantial examples of European style charm.

© Amusement Parks, Resorts & Hotels: Beer Tourism in Old Milwaukee

With various breweries now partaking in nonbeer-related ventures, such as hotels and concert venues, it may seem that this is a recent phenomenon. However, breweries have long been seeking to provide alternate experiences to beer drinkers. This presentation will center around turn of the century Milwaukee and the city's breweries seeking to show their dominance through more than just their beer, but with hotels, parks, and theaters.

() The War to End All Wars

This lecture will examine the Milwaukee home front during World War I and will discuss the good, the bad, and the ugly sides of how city residents responded to the military, social, and economic demands of the conflict.

() Milwaukee Landmarks

Explore the highlights of Milwaukee's architecture and built environment and how people in and outside of Milwaukee view and approach the city.

(S) Milwaukee's Founders

The individual backgrounds, goals and achievement of three very different people contributed to the success of this landscape divided by the rivers. Settlement was competitive, but the local ingredients of woodlands, potential farmland, and new business opportunities created a thriving metropolis celebrating its 200th anniversary in 2018. Get to know these early entrepreneurs and understand their unique gifts and shortcomings, and our group inheritance of courageous stories.

(3) On with the Show: Going to the Theater in Milwaukee

Take a nostalgic look at Milwaukee's rich theater heritage, from the early days of the city's legitimate stage theaters to the rise and fall and rise again of its movie theaters.

(S) Milwaukee: City of Festivals

While most people think of the festivals held at Henry Maier festival park, the origins of the city's passion for festivals goes back to the mid 19th century—from the earliest Sangerfests and Turnfest to the major festivals of today.

(1) Billie the Brownie

Remember Billie the Brownie, the Holiday Parade, and other local traditions? We do. Let's reminisce together. (Combine with a trip to MCHS to see Milwaukee's Treasures and Traditions holiday exhibit).

() The CCC: Roosevelt's New Deal Conservation Program

The work of the Civilian Conservation Corps in Milwaukee County.
