Abstract: The Ajack Co., Inc. General Contractors operated in the West Allis area from 1935 through 1980. Company president Joseph A. Ajack was the fourth of five sons born to Frank and Michaelina Ajejczyk in Grand Marais, Michigan, after they immigrated to the United States from Poland/ Russia in 1903. Joseph's brother, Valentine ("Val") also worked for the company.

After graduating West Allis High School in 1926, Joe apprenticed with an architect/ builder learning design, drafting, engineering, and construction like Val did. In 1935, Joe and Grace Litza married, planned a family and a business. Grace, a graduate of Spencerian Business College in Milwaukee, became the company's secretary/receptionist, bookkeeper, payroll clerk, and billing department.

Joe and Grace changed their last name to "Ajack" because their Polish surname was difficult to pronounce, frustrating customers. The entire family then adopted the new spelling. The company was named "Joseph A. Ajack Designer - Builder " and focused on designing and building many custom homes in the English Tudor tradition in Wauwatosa's Washington Highlands. The brothers wearied of customers' indecisions especially over the color of paint. Valentine went to work for an architectural firm as an architect/ draftsman, and Joe branched out on his own. He changed the company name to "Ajack Co. General Contractors" and did a vast amount of commercial projects, including Among a vast number and variety of commercial projects are AT&T, ITU, Pahle Small Animal Clinic, Luddy's Steak House, J.O Penny's in West Allis, The Milwaukee County Bank; schools in West Allis, New, Berlin, and Muskego; and numerous churches including Immaculate Heart of Mary, Mary Queen of Heaven, St. Matthias, Holy Apostles, St. Aloysius, Mother of Perpetual Help, and Mary Help of Christians..
