Historical Note: Journal Communications (formerly the Journal Company) was founded in 1882 with the formation of The Daily Journal by Peter V. Deuster. Lucius W. Nieman became the editor and half owner on December 11, 1882. The paper's first location was at the Seebote Building, 96 Mason Street. The newspaper changed its name to the Milwaukee Journal in 1885. Journal Communications created WTMJ Communications Inc. on July 25, 1927. It started with radio broadcasting on WTMJ AM. In 1947 the Journal Company first brought television to Wisconsin (WTMJ – TV). On June 1, 1959, WMTJ – FM began broadcasting. Journal Communications bought the Milwaukee Sentinel in 1962, and the two newspapers were merged into the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel in 1995. In 2014 Journal Communications was sold to the E. W. Scripps Company, based in Cincinnati, Ohio. The Journal Media Group, Inc. was formed to take over former Scripps Company and Journal Communications newspapers and continue to operate in Milwaukee. The merger was closed on April 1, 2015. The Gannett Company bought the Journal Media group on April 18, 2016 and is the current owner of the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel (though MNG Enterprises offered to buy Gannett in January 2019).

The Milwaukee Sentinel was first published—with funds provided by Solomon Juneau—in June 1837. It became one of the city's most influential daily newspapers. The Hearst Corporation bought the paper in 1924 but sold it to the Journal Company in 1962 after a costly strike.

Access and Use: No restrictions

Language: English

Arrangement:

The collection is divided into four series:

1. Journal Communications, 1980 – 2017
2. Milwaukee Sentinel, 1872-1992
3. Milwaukee Journal, 1850-1994
4. Journal/Newspaper Guilds, 1943-2013

Administrative Note:

This collection was formed in 2019 by combining all media sources owned by Journal Communications. Collections Mss-2324 – Milwaukee Sentinel, Mss-2339 – Journal Sentinel Inc. and three folders were pulled from the Media Collection (Mss-2254) and are now combined as different series within Mss-2240. The current arrangement was created by Tia Stenson.
